

Sagittarian Mind Mission Statement

Dear Client:

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to serve you as your personal Astrologer. It's apparent that you're taking another major step on your journey towards a deeper level of self-understanding. When used in a positive, life affirming manner, there are many tools which are legitimate in the search for self-knowledge. Astrology, while not placed above or below these other "building blocks" serves as a symbolic language which resonates with me. As a result, I feel very comfortable relaying the same symbolism to you as a mechanism for your personal growth and development.

One of the most vital insights which I pass on to clients concerning Astrology is that nothing has power over you. Ultimately, you are the person who has free will concerning how you use the potential indicated within your birth chart. I consider these energies to be neutral. My philosophy is that there are no "good" or "bad" signs, planets, houses or aspects. I do not consider myself to be a passive Astrologer. Therefore, I always seek to distribute information as constructively as possible, with the overall objective of self-improvement.

You have the choice whether you want to strive toward embodying the highest or lowest form of your chart. The ball is in your court and the choices rest in your hands. You know who you are better than anyone could ever tell you. If someone tries to convince you that they know you better than you know yourself, they may not have your best interest as first priority.

I think you'll find the way I communicate to be straightforward and sincere. Although you may not like what you hear at times, I will seek to be as solution oriented as possible. It is my greatest hope that the information, options and suggestions put forth during our consultation will assist you in a practical manner.

As a bonus, I offer a free follow up within a 30 day window of your initial consultation. Please feel free to contact me with any questions or comments at: jflem@sagittarianmind.com. I will do my very best to respond in 24-48 hours. If you are pleased with your consultation, please spread the word.

Once again, thank you and it's my pleasure to serve.
